YUGOSLAVIAAIRCivilian Airfield in PROCLAV

The Airfield belongs to the Aeroclub and to MPT. Legend of attached sketch is as follows:-

- (a) Offices of Aeroclub, Administrative Offices of training organization, Radio and Meteorological station of the Aeroclub, and offices of the Experimental Unit of Glider Construction. LPA.
Between this building and (b) there was a concrete square.
- (b) Underground fuel storage tanks.
- (c) Two buildings used by guards
- (d) Stores
- (e) Hangar used by the Experimental Unit of Glider Construction LPA.
- (f) Hangar belonging to Aeroclub. It could house between 30 and 40 planes. It was equipped to do minor repairs and maintenance.
- (g) Hangar for gliders. Next to it there were two half burnt-out hangars which MAB (transport unit) wanted to take over for use as garages but the Air Ministry did not grant permission to take over. There was one more small building on the airfield which was used as living quarters by the caretaker in charge of the field.

The airfield had at its disposal a landing strip situated in KROSA BUS approximately 35 km North of PROCLAV. The NO. 2 landing strip had no runways or hangars. There were two small barrack type buildings on the airfield. During good weather this strip was used for training purposes.

2. Small barracks (not marked on sketch)

3. In KROSNIC the works of the Ministry of Communications - Civil Airplane Development - were located. Repairs to sports aircraft were carried out there.
